

Christina Ozaki, M.A., Director of Educational Therapy

Christina is an educator who received her multiple subject credential and masters from the University of California, Irvine. She joined the C4L team in fall of 2003 as an educational therapist and is currently the Director of Educational Therapy. Since 2003, she has also worked as a coordinator at the learning centers at both St. Mary's and St. Margaret's, but her passions lie in the professional development and quality assurance of the educational therapy department as a whole. Her passion for kids and for C4L's mission makes her an asset to C4L and the families we serve.
